WHAT IS OHIO ANALYTICS

- Ohio Analytics is an administrative data partnership supporting education and workforce research priorities of Ohio's public agencies and the Ohio Education Research Center.

- The goal is to inform government policy and program decisions, and to generate new research-based knowledge.

- Ohio Analytics centralizes state administrative data into a single data repository, the Ohio Longitudinal Data Archive (OLDA), for education and workforce research.

- The OLDA allows researchers to more accurately assess the effectiveness of workforce and education programs, services, and policies and to identify gaps that can be addressed for the overall improvement of Ohio's workforce and education systems.
