

Dan Evers, Clinton County Port Authority Executive Director

Dan Evers joined the Clinton County Port Authority in October 2015. Dan is responsible for facilitating the management and redevelopment of the Wilmington Air Park, which includes over 1,900 acres of land, nearly three million square feet of building space and two commercial runways. He also coordinates the day-to-day operations of the Port Authority as well as the administration of a federally-funded Brownfields redevelopment program.

Immediately prior to assuming his position with the Clinton County Port Authority, Dan was the Director of Economic Development for GROW Licking County in Newark, Ohio. In that position, he was responsible for advancing the economic development agenda for the community's first public/private Community Improvement Corporation. In his time with GROW Licking County, the CIC was involved in projects that will result in over $300 million in new investment in seven communities with more than 1,500 new job opportunities created and another 1,500 retained.

Previously, Dan served as the Township Administrator for Deerfield Township in Mason, Ohio, and for Sugarcreek Township in Bellbrook, Ohio. Additionally, Dan served as the Director of Business Development for the Downtown Dayton Partnership. He served the City of Hamilton, Ohio, as the Director of Economic Development, and served as Economic Development Administrator for Butler County, Ohio, and Director of the Certified Development Company of Butler County.

Dan is President-Elect of the Wilmington, Ohio Noon Rotary, and currently serves on the Board of the Ohio Economic Development Association as its Past President. Dan is advisor to the Miami University chapter of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, and a member of the Ohio Living Cape May Advisory Board. He maintains membership in numerous professional associations, including the International Economic Development Council, Council of Development Finance Authorities, Ohio Aviation Association.

He holds a Master of Public Administration degree from Xavier University and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science (State and Urban Affairs) from the Miami University. Dan has received certification from the National Development Council as an Economic Development Finance Professional.

Most importantly, Dan is the father of three wonderful children – Maggie, Drew, and Dylan.
